BRENDON DE JONGE
PGA TOUR PLAYER

Brendon de Jonge, playing his fourth season on the PGA TOUR, has made the cut in 12 of 16 starts this season. In 2010 Brendon had ten top-10 finishes and ranked 32nd on the money list. Brendon earned second-team All-America honors at Virginia Tech in 2002 and 2003, where he was a teammate of PGA TOUR member Johnson Wagner.

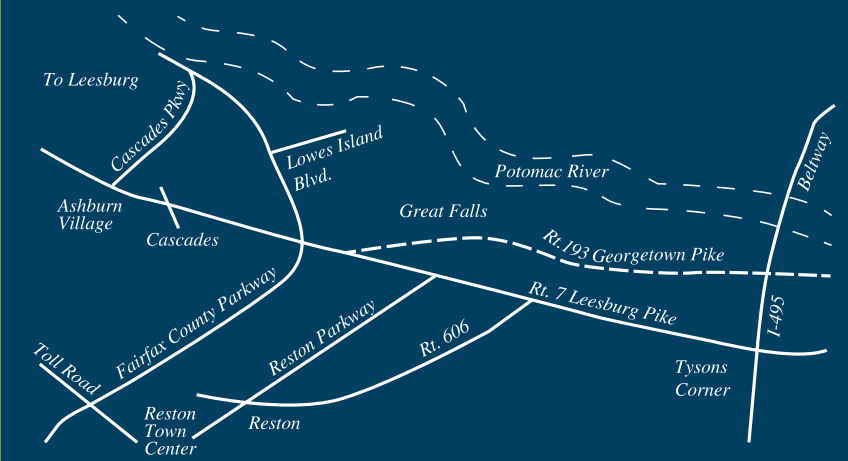

TRUMP NATIONAL GOLF CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP COURSE

The Championship Course was designed by Tom Fazio and ranked by Golf Digest as the 10th Best New Private Course in 1994 and the Fifth Best Course in the Commonwealth of Virginia, and it has only become better with age. The par-72 course stretches along lakes and marshes offering expansive views of the Potomac, then winds through a wooded valley laced with streams. Wildlife is abundant, ranging from eagles and heron to deer and red foxes. Large forgiving fairways and greens can be deceptive, surrounded by small, deep and well-placed bunkers. Playing 7,106 yards from the championship tees, the course is enjoyable for both expert and higher handicap golfers.

Directions: From the Beltway
Take the Dulles Toll Road to the Fairfax County Parkway North. Follow the Fairfax County Parkway North approximately 4 miles, across Route 7 (where the Fairfax County Parkway becomes the Algonkian Parkway) and continue on the Algonkian Parkway an additional 2 miles. At the traffic light, turn right onto Lowes Island Boulevard and continue 1 mile then turn left at the Club's entrance.
